KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.—Every one in the State should understand the many actions which disgraced the Democratic Legislature of Kentucky; therefore,

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that the last House of Representatives rejected McCorkle as Additional Clerk because he was an American, and preferred to elect an incompetent Democrat instead of a competent American; and that this legislation for the benefit of partisans cost the State more than $1,000; and, moreover, the business of the State was retarded and bungled, and several acts never enacted were enrolled and placed upon the statute book, and some which were enacted were altered; and that all this was the result of the election of incompetent partisan Clerks; and that R. R. REVELL approves the conduct of the Democracy in that particular.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that the Democrats of the last Legislature voted to lease the Penitentiary to the caveat nominee of their party for $4,000 per annum less than an American had offered for it, and other Democrats were willing and anxious to pay for it. And Mr. R. R. REVELL endorses their conduct in relation to the leasing of the State Prison, and approves of their attempt to virtually deprive the State of $16,000 in order to enrich a favorite partisan, and joins in the denunciation of the American Senate because it was determined that the Democratic candidate for Keeper of the Penitentiary should pay as much for the lease as other men were able and ready to pay. Let the people decide whether or not a party shall be kept in power which exhibits so reckless a contempt for their interests, and so determined a spirit to use all the offices of the government for the promotion and reward of partisans.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that when a bill was brought into the House of Representatives to apply the unexpended portion of a former appropriation for the extension and improvement of the Penitentiary to the construction of a sewer for the drainage of the Penitentiary yard of the constantly accumulating and nauseating filth—the immediate construction of which sewer had been strongly urged by the Commissioners of the Penitentiary, the Keeper of the Penitentiary and the Democratic Committee, as the most important sanitary improvement which could possibly be made, and when all parties were agreed as to the necessity of the sewer—that, under all these circumstances, a Democratic member moved to amend by delaying the commencement of the work for one year, for the avowed purpose of giving the chances of the job to the incoming Democratic Keeper. The want of the sewer was well known and admitted to be one of the principal causes of the ill-health of the inmates of the Prison, and in case of an epidemic the mortality which would probably result from the lack of facilities for removing the filth which is constantly and unavoidably accumulating would be frightful. Yet with those circumstances fully explained and repeatedly brought under their notice, the Democrats voted to permit the money necessary to construct the sewer to remain idle in the Treasury for another year, and to expose the inmates of the Penitentiary to the danger and horrors of disease and death, for the very laudable purpose of giving Mr. South the opportunity of making a little money out of the job. And R. R. REVELL upholds and endorses their legislation and motives of legislation upon this subject.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that the Democratic Senators of the Legislature endorsed the recommendation of the President for Congress to pass an involuntary Bankrupt Law applicable to Banks and Railroads and other State corporations, and that the convention which nominated Revell also endorsed this doctrine so subversive of the rights of the States. That the Senate of Kentucky endorsed the doctrine that the Federal Government had the power to take these corporations from under the control and management of the States, and to place their effects in the hands of Federal commissioners to be administered upon by them at the pleasure of Federal authorities, if, on the eve of a great financial crisis, when every thing was stagnant, they might be temporarily embarrassed; and, moreover, approved the policy of exercising that power. And Rankin R. Revell endorses the votes and opinions of the Democratic convention and the Democratic Senators upon this subject.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that the present administration recommends the establishment of independent Sub-Treasuries in each State, and that the people be compelled to pay their taxes in specie; and that this is the doctrine of the Democratic party, and it is fair to presume that, obedient to the President and his cherished policy, the Democratic party will establish such a system in Kentucky as soon as they obtain complete political ascendancy in this State. And that R. R. Revell upholds this Democratic principle.

KEEP IT CONSTANTLY BEFORE THE PEOPLE, that the Democrats in the House of Representative endorsed the radical doctrine promulgated by the President, that majorities can place no restrictions upon their own will and passions which they cannot remove at pleasure; and that constitutions are not binding upon majorities, but that majorities can make and unmake constitutions whenever and however they choose. The Democratic party of Kentucky endorse and approve this monstrous doctrine, which leaves the rights of the helpless minority, guaranteed by the constitution, at the mercy of the unruly passions and caprice of the majority. And R. R. Revell endorses all this, and is an advocate of the pernicious Democratic theory that majorities can annul contracts—for what is a constitution but a great contract, social and political, between the people forming a community, securing to each one certain specified rights and privileges?

Great Trial of Harvesters.

It has for some time been announced, that a trial of Reapers and Mowers would take place before the Kentucky State Agricultural Society, at some point easily accessible, during the harvest of the present season. And we now perceive that the place fixed upon is the farm of Col. Stephen Ormsby, about 9 miles from Louisville, on the L. & E. railroad, and the time—Wednesday and Thursday, June 30th, and July 1st.

One of the remarkable features of the progress of the last half dozen years, is the perfection to which sundry articles of agricultural machinery have been brought in this country. The example of the United States, indeed, has stimulated enterprise and inventive talent in this department of human industry, throughout Europe, till Great Britain, France, Germany, and even Russia, present the rare and noble picture of princes and courtiers turning their backs for the time from the throne, and relaxing their grasp upon the reigns of government, of soldiers thrusting their swords into the scabbard, merchants quitting their counting rooms, and manufacturers leaving their workshops, and all gazing with rapt admiration upon the precision and beauty (with which the wheat drill seeds the land, the rapidity, evenness, and economy with which the two or four horse Mower cuts the ripened grain, the ease and regularity with which the portable steam engine, or the easily movable horse-power, operates the rapid Thresher and Separator that does the work of more than a score of men, and, latterly, the gigantic strides of the Steam-Plow, that promises, ere another half-dozen years shall pass, not only to relieve the hands of man, but even to take the bit, the collar and the chain, from his noble and faithful companion, the horse. The United States, however, has been the great and leading theater of these wonderful improvements, and their most immediate scene is our own fertile and expansive West.

The trial to take place on Wednesday and Thursday next, will afford the people of all this part of Kentucky a fine opportunity to see the practical application of these implements, in the field. We learn by letter from the Secretary of the State Society, that quite a large number of machines have been entered, and that one of the most interesting and exciting scenes is anticipated that have ever been witnessed upon the harvest field in any land. No less than five machines will come into direct competition at the start, in three trials each—first as reapers, then as mowers, and finally as combined implements. These several machines embrace all the latest and best improvements, and are the most celebrated articles of their class. Following them, in the trial, will come several reapers, and several mowers, (not combined machines,) one of which is constructed upon a plan entirely new, and applies the principle of the circular saw to the cutting of grain. (We perceive in this machine the germ of a future hemp-cutter, which will be bound to succeed, and think our hemp-growers will find it worth while to attend the trial simply for the purpose of seeing its mode of operation.) Altogether, the trial promises to be one of great interest and importance, and we are satisfied that our agricultural friends cannot do a more profitable day's work than to attend it.

The cars of all three of the railroad trains, we are informed, will stop at Col. Ormsby's farm, going down and coming up, to take in and put out passengers, both days of the trial.

IN BAD COMPANY.—We notice that Humphrey Marshall, of this State, addressed a political meeting in Philadelphia on the 15th. Senators Simmons, Cameron, Collamer, and other Black Republicans made speeches on the same occasion. Mr. Marshall seems to have cultivated a social, political, and Congressional intimacy with men of this type.—Lexington Statesman.

We are credibly informed that Humphrey Marshall spent several days on the Susquehanna in very pleasant communion with Lord Napier and several other foreign ministers. Of course it will be said that Humphrey is in a league with these men to overthrow the government, and to have his native land desecrated by the invading army of a foreign foe. We would not be surprised, from the familiar intercourse which has passed between them, if Humphrey was at the bottom and the prime instigator of all the British outrages on our commerce.

THE amount of which the poor lunatics at Lexington were deprived by the carelessness and inefficiency of the Democratic Clerks of the House of Representatives, is exactly the same as that which the Democrats desired to virtually give to Mr. South, the incoming Keeper of the Penitentiary. We wonder if the two incidents have any connection with each other. The Democratic papers say that their party in the Legislature voted to expose the convicts in the Penitentiary to the dangers of disease in order to spite Zeb. Ward for offering a larger sum for the Penitentiary than South was willing to give; we wonder if the Penitentiary affair had anything to do with the insane at Lexington. We think not, however, although the Superintendent is an American.

THE celebrated trotting mare Flora Temple has been purchased by Mr. William McDonald of Baltimore, for $8,000. It is stated that her present owner offered to match her against Lancet, two miles, mile heats, best 3 in 5, in harness, and two mile heats, for $5,000 each. There is considerable excitement in regard to these championships of the turf, and betting will be heavy if they are matched.

A GOOD OLD AGE.—We record the death to day of Rev. Zachariah Greene, at Hempstead, L. I., on the 21st. He was a soldier of the Revolution in early life, and became a soldier of the Cross after the battles of his country were fought. He died at the age of 99.

STOCK OF BULLION.—In the Times City Article it is stated that the whole amount of the specie now held by the banks of England, France and Vienna is £50,000,000.

From the Lexington Observer & Reporter.

"Treason to Henry Clay."

The Kentucky Statesman charges Mr. Crittenden with treason to Henry Clay, because, in 1848, as it says, he preferred "old Rough and Ready" as the more available and the only available Whig candidate for the Presidency. We believe that Mr. Crittenden, like thousands of Mr. Clay's best friends, personal and political, presuming, from his repeated declarations and his position, that he would be unwilling again to be the Whig candidate for the Presidency, in his old age, after being supplanted by Harrison, and beaten by Polk; and apprehending that the Democrats had slandered him so cruelly and perseveringly that he could not be elected—united with the masses of the Whig party in the sentiment that Gen. Taylor, and he alone, could defeat the Democratic candidate, as he, sure enough, did. If this was "treason to Henry Clay," multitudes of Whigs, perhaps more than half, were traitors.

And what did the leading Democrats of Fayette do? Gen. Taylor having announced that he was "a Whig, but not a die-hard of a Whig," the Vice President of the United States, and other conspicuous Democrats, together with some Whigs, held a large meeting in our own Court House for the purpose of nominating the Hero of Buena Vista as the proper candidate for the crisis. And, although they were defeated, as intimated in the Statesman, by an overwhelming speech of Judge Robertson, who is now arraigned as the comforter of the traitor, yet they published a book urging Gen. Taylor as the "people's" candidate, because they were sick of violent party contests, and they urged that Gen. Taylor had not been a political partisan, and could and ought to be elected!

Here are some "memories" for the Fayette organ of these same Democrats. Let it crack these nuts, before it strikes again at a Whig for daring to think as its Vice President said he thought, that Gen. Taylor was the available and proper candidate for the Presidency in 1848. We did not think so—Judge Robertson did not think so—but many of Mr. Clay's friends, who had stuck to him against the world for a quarter of a century, did think so. And we now say, on authority, that Mr. Clay, on his death bed, told his son that Mr. Crittenden had not acted dishonorably towards him, and urged that son to be kind to him.

On these facts, what must all honorable men think of the last, and poorest, and vainest effort of the Statesman to blast an old and never flinching Whig, and seduce old line Whigs, to renounce him and their own faith, and that of Henry Clay; and become refugees in his old enemy's squalor and soon to be routed camp?

We may have to say much more on this subject, and it may be our unpleasant duty to revive some political memories that to some men will not be agreeable. We did not start this bygone, effete matter, and the Statesman did not stir their temerity. They and their motives are known, but they sadly miscalculate if they suppose that any Whig can be seduced from his party allegiance by such miserable trash. The Whigs and Americans understand too well the game that is being played by Democrats, who persecuted Henry Clay to his death, but who now wish to appropriate his fame and his memory to their own selfish ends, to be caught by it. It is a game that won't win, no how skillfully played. But, for the present, enough.

GLANCY JONES AT HOME.—The Reading Gazette, the leading Democratic paper in Berks county, alludes to Mr. Glancy Jones' free trade speech in Congress thus:

We do not intend to make any comments upon the position which Mr. Jones has here taken on the tariff question. It is his business, not ours, to explain to his constituents the honesty and consistency of the peculiar line of policy in which he is so well skilled, of being for and against a measure at the same time. We copy the above merely to show the tariff men of Berks county, to whose interests he so solemnly pledged himself in 1850—and whose votes he made up the pitifully small majority of 530 votes by which he was elected, or more properly speaking, escaped defeat—how he is redeeming his pledges. True Democrats may doubt whether it is exactly honorable or proper for the candidate of their party to be electioneering for support among the opposition party, under any circumstances, even though it may be thought the last resort to escape defeat. But having done so, having bargained for opposition votes, and given a staff of office as the consideration—as there is abundant and damning proof that Mr. Jones did—which would be the more honest course?—to keep his pledge, or break it?

It is very evident that Mr. Jones has two faces on this tariff question, one to wear at home, and the other for the latitude of Washington. When he spoke as above reported, he did not wear the old face in which he wheedled the tariff men into his support eight years ago. But as soon as he returns home he will doubtless put it on again, and attempt a repetition of the same game notwithstanding the disguise has by this time worn so dimly that it scarcely serves as a safe mask. He will do as he has repeatedly done before—promise anything to secure his reelection to Congress. But that point gained, it is likely that he will suddenly change the whole course of his political life, and for once keep his promise! The religious revival which has spread far and wide over the country, was not very powerfully felt in Washington, and we have yet to hear that Mr. Jones was made one of its converts.

AN OLD JOKE.—If Mr. Buchanan were not so heartless and careless with regard to the right and wants of the people, we could laugh at his jokes. In a recent message to Congress he said: "The habit of extravagant expenditures, fostered by a large surplus in the Treasury, must now be corrected, and for once the country will be involved in serious financial difficulties."

This after running the expenses of the Government up to a hundred million, and the treasury empty. His facetious namesake, George Buchanan, never perpetrated a rasher joke than that.

From the many recommendations of this Work we have only room for the following:

GENESSEE.—Having made a particular examination of Goodrich's "History of All Nations," I am free to say that I know of no work, great or small, that contains half the amount of useful and entertaining matter for family reading. It is written in Mr. Goodrich's best style. It is a library, a historical library of itself; and it is worth, according to the usual cost of good reading, three times the money you ask for it. It is no wonder that you have to keep a power press running constantly to supply the orders for these volumes; for the public have only to know their value to make them a universal want with all classes.

I am, gentlemen, most respectfully yours,

B. F. THORPE.

Extract from a Letter from Ex-President Fillmore.

I think it eminently deserving of the public patronage. It is necessarily brief; but it brings under review, with its admirable illustrations, the principal subjects worthy of attention in all nations, and to the young especially, it is invaluable.

I have been familiar with Mr. Goodrich's writings for many years, and have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him; and I think him admirably qualified for imparting instruction in a way that brings it within the reach of the common mind.

MOSELEY'S TUBULAR WROUGHT IRON

ARCH BRIDGES AND ROOFS.

THESE Bridges and Roofs have now been fully tested. In this vicinity, and it is universally conceded that they cannot be excelled. The Roofs are wholly of Wrought Iron, or mixture of Wood and Iron; Sheeting always Iron.

The Bridges are wholly Wrought Iron except the floor, which is wood, like the floors of ordinary Bridges. We are prepared to make these structures in any quantities, at prices about as follows:

Railroad Bridges, 50 feet span, 8,000 lbs, $17 50 per foot lineal.

Common Road or Turnpike, 50 feet span, 2,000 lbs, $5 75 per foot lineal.

Roofs, all iron, 50 feet width of building, $25 per 100 square feet, part wood and part iron, from $12 to $20 per square.

Increase of span of bridges or width of buildings makes an increase of price, but the increase in price is no more than the increase of wooden structures.

We can furnish Iron of every size to work into Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads or other companies buying the right to use them and the iron of us, can make their own structures one third less than the above prices. Our structures weigh only from 1-4 to 1-3 that of wood; difference in freight in a long distance buys our work. In a few days we will have at our Factory, 497 West Third Street, in this city, four different specimens of our roof, where the public can inspect them to their satisfaction. We beg them to give us a call, as all our work is warranted, and we ask no pay on ordinary jobs until the work is done and approved, payment being secured on contracting. Office No. 66 West Third Street,
